

Public Policy and Governmental Relations

We are known for devising and advocating practical solutions for complex legal issues, often in a highly-charged political atmosphere. Our attorneys are experienced in representing clients in local, state and federal forums that include working with all types of governmental entities, regulatory agencies and the courts.

Track Record. We have a proven track record of navigating turbulent political waters and being able to contact the appropriate governmental official to solve the problem effectively. Our firm is known for innovative and creative solutions that are specifically tailored to meet our clients' needs.

Diverse Representation. Our clients include governmental entities and elected officials, trade associations and industry groups, chambers of commerce, nonprofit organizations and a vast array of businesses. We have a long and rich history of providing effective legal solutions to this client base.

Substantive Experience. Examples of our past governmental activities include challenging Colorado's Amendment 41's infringement of First Amendment rights and representing Coloradans for Responsible Reform in challenging anti-business initiatives.

We have experience in the following areas:

- Election law
- State and local ballot initiatives
- Land use and development
- Environmental
- Agency compliance and enforcement
- Administrative and regulatory law
- Economic development projects
- Government contracts
- Constitutional law
- Local, state and federal legislative issues